Gain access to community solar and save an average of $1,000 annually on energy bills at no cost to you!*

Residential customers who are income eligible now have greater access to solar energy.

Give-A-Ray is a new solar offering designed to increase your access to solar energy and is made possible by Illinois Solar for All. ComEd is partnering with Trajectory Energy Partners, a community solar developer, to give you access to their Kankakee community solar project, without paying any subscription fees. Apply with ComEd by April 1, 2022, agree to a three-year contract, and you'll receive automatic discounts on your monthly energy bills.

NO ROOFTOP SOLAR PANELS ARE NEEDED TO PARTICIPATE.

How Community Solar Works

Community solar allows you to take advantage of solar energy without installing a private solar energy system at your property.

BEAR was overjoyed to partner with Markel Insurance on what was our third Chicago construction project together. The kick-off meeting was held in February 2020, just before the COVID shutdowns occurred across the nation. BEAR's quick pivot with enhanced technology platforms allowed for a seamless transition to the virtual world. Weekly video walk-throughs of the space were shared with Markel's lead PM in Virginia and their main AIA (Baskervill) in Ohio. The space itself was a transformation from the traditional, closed office environment to a modern, open concept with limited private offices, large employee gathering areas, huddle rooms and phone booths. Amid the production shutdowns caused by the pandemic, the project was delivered on-time and on-budget with few modifications to the original design.
